THE SPIRIT MONOPOLY BILL IN GERMANY. New York, 8th March.

A Berlin callegram says:—It becomes more evident every day that the opposition to th spirit monopoly bill is based more upon the aversion of the prople to interference on the part of the Government with private rights than upon any objection to the character and merits of the measure itself. The people of this city can tolerate a great deal of police supervision, but a line had to be drawn somewhere, and the action of the Reichstag, in referring the whole proposition to a committee, which is considered equivalent to its defeat, is regarded as a triumph for the opposition.

The proposition of the Government to pay 3,000 brandy manufacturers 60,000,000 marks per annum in order to procure a monopoly of spirits would require a principal equal to half the amount paid by France in 1871 as a war indemnity, and esch schnapps manufacturer would receive a donation as large as that given to each of the great generals of the France-Prussian war. These figures are calling forth considerable humorous comment. The bill, if passed, it is estimated, would increase the property of the spirit manufacturers to 1,700,000,000 marks. There are a good many people who draw comparisons between Bismurck and Metternich. They allege that both are enormously overrated, and, as in the case of Metternich, one day may suffice to bring about the fall of Bismarck without a hope of his restoration.

Berlin, 12th March. Bismarck's Spirit Monopoly bill was to-day rejected by the committee of the Reichstag to whom it was referred for consideration. The vote against adeption was 20 to 5.

M. Cernuschi wentinto details on the Anglo-Indian situation, and maintained that the continued fall in value in the rupes was pregnant with the most terrible consequences, not only to India, but to the world at large. The lecturer said later to a reporter: " What I want to call special attention to is the fact that the senroity of gold has nothing whatever to do with the crisis. If, to-day, all the silver france, shillings, marks and roubles of Europe were suddenly transferred by to the cardinalate the magician's wand into gold, the situation would not be permanently changed. Mrs. Hart has caused a sen- men, whom he supposed to be Americans, upon sation in certain circles, and gossip bandies about an ineffensive people. He so reported to many names of titled debauchees as likely to be his home Government. His report was foridentified with the business by which the woman | warded to the Imperial Chinese Legation here and transmitted to China through proper official channels. The instructions which the Chinese. Minister received from his Government workmen to-day held a meeting here, to discuss were startling. He was directed to demand their grievances. The meeting deputed a com. from the United States a total disavowal of the Mantla 29.99 81 37 1 1 1 0 affair, condign punishment—capitally, if the killing could be proven—and an indemnity to the sufferers for their loss, to be paid by the United States. This was the ultimatum. If the United States refused to comply with the demands, the President was to be informed that the Chinese Government would immediately proceed to collect indemnity from American citizens in business in the Imperial territory, and would " withdraw its protection from them," which meant that they would be notified to leave China at once. Simultaneously with this, information came to the State Department from official sources in London that the Marquis Tseng, the Chinese Ambassador to the Courts of St. James and St. Cloud, was about to return home to take a high position in the Imperial Conneil of State, and that he would insist upon stern measures being taken against the United States, to mark its displeasure at the outrages which the American authorities permitted our citizens to commit against his people, without any attempt being made to prevent them or punish those who openly avowed their participation in them. This was the situation when the President sent his message to Congress on Taesday last It will be seen that he denies the right of the Chinese Government to demand an indemnity for the property destroyed. This is the point upon which the instructions of the Imperial Council struck no one remained intact, and made no was believed the exhibition would have the effect conclusions of the President in regard to this matter. These are the simple facts, the Critic | WE SHOULD BLOT OUT DISEASE IN says, from undoubted authority, and they are given to the country as aids to the comprehension of the President's past message in its full importance.

The late Wm. H. Vanderbilt, of this city. was not the richest man in the world. If he was worth $200,000,000 it would be but one-third of the estate left by the Prince of Hohenzellern-Signaringen, who died a short time ago. The Dake of Westminster owns realties valued at £150,000,000, and the Australian papers speak of a man said to be worth twice that amount. One of the Rothschilds also is worth £100,000.000.

Ireland (says the Boston Herald) would be better fixed politically if its condition should be made like a state in our Union, rather than like a province the same as Canada. Canada has no representation in the Imperial Parliament. Great Britain ought to have a Parliament for imperial purposes, with representatives from her dependencies, and another for her local affairs, has long been apparent that the British Parliament cannot properly consider both general and local matters.

ITS EARLY STAGES.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidney. liver, pancreas, and in fact the entire glandular system; and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The diseaso is often mistaken for other complaints: but if the reader will ask himself the following questions he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:—Have I distress. pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating P Is there a dull, heavy feeling, attended by drowsinoss? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the sides and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging P Is there costiveness? Is there vertige or dizziness when rising suddenly from an horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulance or belching of gas from the stomach. Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case one of long standing, there will be a dry, backing cough, attended after a time by expectoration. Firm per procuration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against the latter agonising disorder. The origin of this malady is indigostion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipiency. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable proparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, London, E.C. East-street Mills, Cambridge-heath.

" London, E.C., July 24th, 1882. "Sir,-It gives me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favour of your valuable Syrup as a curative agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease. I had tried all possible means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had swallowed sufficient of their stuff to float a man-of-war, so to speak, but all to no avail. A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him bottle of your Seigel Syrup; he advised me to try it, stating he felt confident it would benefit me Being weary of trying so many drugs, I condemned it before trial, thinking it could not possibly do me any good, but ultimately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short time it worked such a change in me that I continued taking it for nearly two months, and I then felt thoroughly cured, for I have discontinued its use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health. and can partake any kind of food with ease and comfort. I am therefore thankful to you that, through the instrumentality of your valuable medicino, I am restored to the state of health I now enjoy .- Yours truly,

"To Mr. A. J. White." "W, S. FORSTER. "Waterloo House, London Stile, Chiswick, " February 17th, 1882.

Messra White and Co., London. "Gentlemen,-It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness: then a mist would come before my eyes, so that I should not beable to recognise any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two or three days. Shares—80 per cent. prem , sales and buyers, have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Soigel's Symp I had Hongkong, Canton, and Macao Steamboat Co.'s no relief. Since then I have had excellent health in every respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be the means of including others (who suffer as I used) to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured, I receive appealy neural aithfully, bog to remain, yours faithfully, "A. this Work stands unrivalled. All the now words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-

To the illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration :--

Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000

Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-
